

I just don't understand how this is even an issue. Why is there a problem with XM providing these services? I pay a monthly fee for this service. I should be able to get the weather and traffic through my XM radio. Why would you want to take something away from the consumer? The logic behind this is just goes to show the greed that is behind any corporation or association that is against what XM provides. I'm furious over this issue. The fact that the NAB has brought this issue to the FCC makes me not want to listen to "normal" FM or AM broadcasts anymore.
